SHIBU SOREN WAS KNOWN AS 'DISHOM GURU'

Tribal Leader, who Fought for Jharkhand State, Dead at 81

Kumar Anshuman

New Delhi: Shibu Soren was among the last surviving leaders who fought for a separate Jharkhand state and ensured that tribals led a life of dignity. He couldn't have imagined a better outcome for the tribal movement which he led from his early days. The Jharkhand Mukti Morcha (JMM), the party he founded with his friends Vinod Bihari Mahato and AK Roy in 1975, currently is in power in the state for two consecutive terms with his son Hemant Soren being the chief minister. The state has announced three days mourning for the 81-year-old tribal leader.

Supreme Court in 1998.

In 2004, he became the union cabinet minister in the UPA government. But, he had to resign and surrender after an arrest warrant was issued in the 1975 Chiridih massacre case, in which he was named the main accused in the killing of 11 people. He finally got acquitted in the case in March 2008. After getting bail, he was inducted into the central cabinet only to resign later to become the CM of Jharkhand in 2005. However, the tenure lasted 10 days as the government couldn't prove a vote of confidence. He became a union minister again only to resign after 10 months after getting convicted in another murder case of his private secretary Shashi Nath Jha in Delhi. He got acquitted in the case.

In 2008, he became the Jharkhand CM for the second time. He contested the by-election from Tamar to become an MLA but lost. He had to resign again as CM. He became CM again in December 2008 and resigned in May 2009. In 2009, he lost the Lok Sabha election from Dumka to Sunil Soren of the BJP. In April 2025, he passed the JMM presidency to his son, Hemant Soren, the current Jharkhand CM. Despite controversies, Soren remained an icon for the tribal and poor communities of the state.

Born in a farmer's family in 1944, he was the second of four children. His father, Sohan Soren, was a teacher who participated in the freedom movement. In 1937, his father was murdered and that changed his life. Soren started galvanising tribals and creating awareness among them against the money lenders who used to charge exorbitantly high interest rates from tribal farmers. The money lenders would finally take control of the tribal land because of high interest rates. His movement started gaining strength and Soren became popular. What started as a movement against money lenders became a movement for a separate state of Jharkhand for tribals. This is one of the reasons his party JMM still has strong support among the tribal community across the state. Shibu Soren's political career was a mix of success and controversies. He became Lok Sabha MP for a record eight times and was a four-time Rajya Sabha member, including the current term. In 1993, he was one of the four JMM MPs who was accused of taking a bribe for voting in favour of the government on a no-confidence motion. He was acquitted by the

Rahul Postpones B'loru Protest

Bengaluru: Congress leader Rahul Gandhi has postponed his scheduled protest against the EC1 in Bengaluru to August 8 from August 5 in view of the state mourning for former Jharkhand CM Shibu Soren, who died on Monday.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar said the late Soren was a key alliance partner of Congress.

As the final rites are scheduled for Tuesday, Congress has postponed the event, he said. On August 6, Gandhi will lead the protest against the alleged "votes theft" in Bangalore Central Lok Sabha seat that he said caused his party's rout in last year's general election.

PM Modi to Address NDA Parliamentary meet Today

Janin Takkar

New Delhi: Prime Minister Narendra Modi is likely to address a meeting of the members of Parliament of the ruling NDA on Tuesday, the first in the monsoon session, said people familiar with the matter.

A notice from the BJP on Monday said, "A meeting of the NDA Parliamentary party will be held at 9.30 am on Tuesday, August 5, in GMC Balaयोग, Auditorium of Parliamentary Library Building, All NDA members of Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha are requested to attend." Operation Sindoor and the parliamentary debate on the operation are likely to feature prominently at the meeting.

The meeting assumes significance as it is being held amid heightened political activity, with Prime Minister Modi and Union home minister Amit Shah meeting President Droupadi Murmu separately on Sunday.

Besides, the meeting of NDA MPs is being held after more than a year. The last such meeting was held in July last year. Several meetings were held in Parliament on Monday, including Shah meeting home secretary Govind Mohan and national security advisor Ajit Doval. Shah also held a series of meetings with Union ministers and also with the BJP's organisational leaders, party general secretaries Vinod Tawde and Sunil Bansal, and general secretary (organisation) BL Santhosh.

Centre Penalisng us for Achievements: Kerala Minister

Nidhi Sharma

New Delhi: Even as the chief ministers of southern states N Chandrababu Naidu and MK Stalin have urged people to have more children to secure greater representation in Parliament, Kerala has struck a different note and termed this a "shortcut". Following calls by Stalin and Naidu to correct the demographics of southern states which have scrupulously followed population control measures for decades, Kerala industries and law minister P Rajeev said the issue needs better management and not these shortcuts.

Speaking in ET, Rajeev, who is also a CPI(M) central committee member, said, "This is a shortcut (asking people to have more children) to address the problem. We need to recognise the reality — that people have the right to (decide) how many children they have." Rajeev accused the Centre of penalising southern states for implementing the Union government policy. "We are facing a financial crisis, not economic crisis but a financial crisis due to the policies of the Union government. We are being penalised for our achievements in certain sectors."

Last year, Naidu had kicked up a controversy as he asked the people of his state to have more children, saying India will soon have an ageing population. The Andhra Pradesh government has amended rules and now allows only people with more than two children to contest the local body elections. Stalin linked it to demeritisation and said that more population would mean more representation for a state in Parliament. Rajeev said, "The Centre should, in fact, give incentives to states which have implemented its policies. Population control was a policy of the Centre which we have implemented. Rather than limiting the number of constituencies, they should give incentives."
